Student-Led Activities for a Stronger School Community

Connections empowers students to lead activities that bring diverse peers together, fostering belonging and promoting racial equity. In the 2024-2025 school year, we are focusing on Garfield and Roosevelt High Schools in Seattle.

Do you provide youth activities or want to sponsor them through donations or in-kind support? We are creating an online Connections Partner Directory, a resource to help students plan and lead activities for their peers. Activities for the first cohort of students at Garfield and Roosevelt are funded through 2025, with hopes to expand to more schools and students in the future.

When Students Feel Like They Belong:

- Academic performance improves
- Attendance rates rise
- School culture becomes more inclusive

Join us in making Garfield and Roosevelt High Schools inclusive and supportive for all students.
